

Haven't
had a thought for days
too much time
spent in front of the box watching others
instead of making something out of my own. The last few weeks
I have seen the world
crumble
a curve ball if you will
thrown to force
removal of the self & change what's left
to better character
or become prisoner
of self. The yellow
lines have disappeared & there is a dark road
winding ahead.
